LATEST FROM THE INTERIOR.

We have received the 1st No of a new paper, El Pueblo, of Santiago del Estero. The northern provinces are quite tranquil Sor Ramo' expedition caused a general interest, but everybody is more at first alarmed on hearing of his return from want of water, but later accounts state that he and Mr. Hutchinson having got rid of their military escort were pursuing their explorations near the Bracho. The candidature of Rio Dulce proceeds very successfully under Gen. Taboada; already half the voters have been turned from the Saloons, and the high road of Sumbrero, so debased in last Congress, will be serviceable with a little co-operation on the part of the Nat. Government. The Fraternidad paper of Santiago died of inanition.

Gov. Sarmiento has submitted to the San Juan Legislature the necessity of granting lands to the Irish colony which he says he has commissioned Mr. Rickard to bring out. He points to the great benefit which our countrymen must confer on S. Juan, as they have on every country of their adoption. The Chambers replied by passing a law, dated Nov. 24, 1862, whereby the Executive is authorised to set apart 8,000 cuadras for such colony, to be divided in lots of 20 to 50 cuadras for such male adult, who will moreover, be conveyed free from Buenos Ayres to his destination; there is another clause permitting contracts with immigration agents, and the lives ment of public money in building canals &c for the improvement of the soil.

Mr. Sauze runs a diligence 3 times per month from Cordoba to Tucuman, which greatly facilitates our intercourse with the North.

D. Abel Bazan & D. Genaro Perez have been elected deputies for the city of Cordoba. D. Pedro Cabanillas who was carried off by the Indians has escaped to the encampment of Col. Vedia.

The proposal for making a dyke to defend the city of Santa Fe estimates the cost at $20,000 silver.

In Cordoba the election for Prov. Deputies came on on the 1st inst. The provisional treasury had suspended payment for want of funds. An agitation is on foot to pave the city. The Rio continues to be inefficient tho subsidy of $10000 an hourly granted by the Nat. Government, to Cordoba comparing it with the monthly sum of $10,000 given to Entre Rios.

THE NEW BANK.

The great topic of the day is the formation of the new Bank. It is exceedingly difficult to say whether the proposed Bank would extricate us from the present difficulty; but a drowning man will catch at anything, and probably, if rightly spun about, much good may result from the Comercial Bank. Unwilling, however, as we are to throw cold water on this embryo institution, still we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that a specie capital can never be created in this country; it must be introduced. If however the shareholders succeed in getting the whole of the proposed capital subscribed for, no matter by what means, we cannot see that any difficulty will be experienced in buying gold bars in Europe, and coining them here.

Ten millions of patacones is no small capital to start with, and if the Government will pay its arrears in the paper money of the present Bank, could be easily redeemed; but a great objection exists to violent reformations, and many suspect that this is not the proper time to meet the question. We cannot coincide with our friends on this point as we regard it absolutely and positively essential for the credit of the country, that something should be done to terminate the frightful fluctuations of currency.

We hope and trust that the Portenos themselves will not be wanting in public spirit, but will come forward and assist the Bank's project. The heavy capitalists, weremark, hold back. To them even attacks the project; but we look for a fair, clear, open statement from the Finance minister. Will he or will he not support the plan? all depends on this; for, disguise it as we will, the Bank, without special privileges, and the right of emitting a convertible paper, would be utterly useless.

THE MONEY MARKET.

On the 18 ins, yesterday, all sorts of rumours were all at, and ounces rebounding. Some said that the Finance Minister who just returned from Montevideo, had proposed a loan of 30 millions to cer ain parties, which was declined with thanks. Of course, we cannot vouch for the truth of the story, as we were told it in passant. People who are not her buying nor selling specie, get all the blame of the rise in ounces. This is not just; they are innocent. Who knows any thing of the state of our market must know that ounces are scarce, and by no means sufficient to meet the requirements of any increased demand. Now, at present there is an increased demand, as one of our principal Banks, the Provincial, is about to withdraw its Paysandu, Gualeguaychu, Fray Bentos and Rosario, to meet its own obligations. So long as business is brisk together, and our ounces in Montevideo exist, so long will gold be exported, and, as a natural consequence, ounces go up. Stop the saladeros to the river Plate working, compel the Comercial Bank of Montevideo to take Buenos Ayres paper-dollars, in immediate payment of every cuadra sold, or the Banco Nacional to repossession, revive the saladero business Barmens, and then ounces will come down, and remain down; but in the mean time considerable fortunes and ruin will be made. Ounces have more than once stood in the breach to save the credit of this country, that paper money could not, and we fear will not again be exported. Paper money has become exceedingly scarce, and some of the bolders, and amongst the number the Provincial Bank, and the Buenos Ayres River Plate Bank hold a meeting, to which some of our leading capitalists should be invited. Let a plain statement be made of the amount of notes made, of the ounces and p per required by each, and measures be taken accordingly. If this plan be adopted, there is still a chance of relief; but, if not, we will not answer for the consequences.

PARAGUAY

The Semanario of the 24th ult. has come to hand. The last week their continues at Asuncion, the thermometer standing at 94 in the shade. A women's hospital has been established in the capital. The 1st, 2nd, and 4th of February were set apart for a thanksgiving festival, in honor of St. Blas, patron of Paraguay—bull-fights, sortijas, horse races and a grand ball to end the programme. News from the country parts is promising for agriculture. It is announced a Brazilian minister will shortly visit Asuncion to adjust the question of frontier.

The Semanario quotes very flattering articles from the Pensamiento D'Ameri and Monitteur, respecting the policy of the new President, D. F. S. Lopez, and the progress made by Paraguay, made his late father. The railway to Areguá runs two trains every sunday and holiday. A band of serenaders patrols the streets of the capital on Sunday evenings.

D. Geronimo Perez arrived on board of the Paraguari, 25th ultc he is a young man of promise, who has been educated in London at the expense of the Republic. Dr. Barstion had also returned from Europe, after a lengthened tour. The mosquitos were very troublesome at Asuncion. M. Bertran has re-opened his hotel, and an Italian named Balliano is amusing the Paraguayans with a Diorama peep-show

ENGLAND AND PARAGUAY.

The following text of treaty is published in the Semanario of the 31st ult.

H. B. M. Government having rejected Art. 2 of the compact signed by Mr. Thornton, and the Paraguan minister of Foreign affairs—We Francis Sanchez, and William Doria, Chargé d' affaires of H. B. M. to agree to the amendment expressed in Art. 2.

1. Mr. Thornton declares that the British Government, in the Cuestati question, never pretended to interfere in the jurisdiction of the republic, and never will seek to prevent the execution of the laws of Paraguay.

2. That the Government of Her Britannic Majesty sincerely regrets that the hostile attitude assumed by its naval forces in the River Plate, against the Paraguayan steamer Tacuari, on the 29th Nov. 1859, should on events will join with us in trying to "Bean with the palperies."

3. That the Paraguayan Government, as already expressed in reply delay.

4. That the Government of Her Britannic Majesty will be ready to Mr. Henderson, has never intended to offend either the representative of Government of H. B. M.

5. That as the collision between the Tacuari and Little Polly is open to discussion, the Paraguayan Gov. in order to cut short the process, agrees to give in compensation for the latter vesel the receipts of the Treasury for this day, without admitting any blame on the part of the Tacuari, and merely for the indemnization of mist rume.

Signed and sealed at Asuncion, this 14th day of October, 1862.

Francis Sanchez
Min. For. Affairs.

William Doria,
Charge d'Affaires of H. B. M.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The T ibun motion about the paper currency question is what may be some of us may not possess much "spic" and the objectionable n may be Se non e vero e ben trovato, we suppose a few days.

A public meeting is called for this Wednesday, the 18th inst. to discuss the Bank question, and the Editor of the Tribuna is said a plan on the topic to commit our Bank notes unissued in Europe.

To day is the anniversary of Chile, because the day that Lord Cochrane, who was Commander in Chief of Chilean forces, declared that island of Latin Independence. Yet Americans never get his name, he is unknown and has no country.

MERCEDES, B. O.

Correspondence of the Standard.

Feb. 10th 1863.

The events attending the occupation of these have caused a feeling of indecision in this place. On the 14 the news reached us that Gen. Paunero had decided to attack the Federal disorders. The Chief of Police and Junta deemed such an opinion. The whole thing is a farce, and I fear it may end badly, people put morning very high. Nearly every house is shut each other in the street, and the Government should see to put some decided measure.

The camps and cattle are looking well. Sweet potatoes are necessarily looking for land, but no one will sell at high rates. The Dramatic Co. are very popular, and the theatre is crowded at every period money. Those who came for the first thing are beginning to feel the want of the change of weather. The Alcalde having been summoned to Mercedes on a private matter, left on day 2 days ago, and as he has left no deputy, not a case has been

MONTEVIDEO.

On Sunday morning the "Pampero" and "Monte" brought into port 485 passengers and all the goods in the river of the 24th inst. In the meantime, was a total week on the English bank. The captain and rest of the crew in boats arrived on the 9th. The Dobrich arrived from Maldonado where she found the Swedish brig "Celina" going to pieces. The crew was rescued, as also much of the cargo, which was timber.

Many privateers were here, awaiting a portion of the cargo of the Argentine. The Queen of Love had four more prizes on board, but the persons were offering, in vain, double price for tickets.

A mosquito ball took place at S. Sa on Sunday night last, and was attended by a good deal of rain. The police have issued a proclamation touching the arrests of Sunday last. The paper, Sarmiento's Chilean paper, has Los Nuevedores in the name of a new paper, another prospectus has a seen, and is to appear in the Plaza. The Comercial Bank has declared a dividend of 10 per cent. payable on the 15th inst. Cerro is to issue

THE LONDON EXHIBITION.

The practical ignition which will occur to every Englishman's mind, now that the excitement and the triumph, too, is done, is "Has it paid its way?" or, another: will there be any such deficit as the guarantors may fairly be called upon to make up? It is stated that our subscription guarantors are concerned the Exhibition has "paid," and they will not be called upon for a single farthing. There will be a deficit on receipts as compared with expenditure, as all in any way interested in this question have known these months past for months past. But this deficit, as far from reaching the enormous sum of 80,000*l* or 90,000*l*, as has been so repeatedly asserted will, we believe be less than 25,000*l*. and may even be under 20,000*l*. The amount, we believe, will be mainly made good by Messrs. Kelk and Lucas—that is to say, that in addition to whatever may be the shortcoming on the deficit 100,000*l* they were to receive under their agreement, they will submit to a still further reduction to cover the liability of the guarantors. The daily returns of money taken at the doors show a total received of nearly 215,000*l* excluding, of course, the sub-sums by shilling day tickets. The season tickets have, it is said, realised nearly 50,000*l*, and the shilling tickets also a considerable sum. Altogether, the receipts from every source, including refreshment and photographic contracts, waiting-rooms, umbrella stands, sales of catalogues, &c., have been up to the present day within a very small amount of 500,000*l* sterling, and not unlikely to be 510,000*l*, or even 520,000*l* before the final closing of accounts after the distribution of prizes by the Prince of Wales. The expenses of constructing the building according to the original plan have, it is stated, been within the 200,000*l* originally advanced by the Bank of England, though of course the commissioners have incurred the usual supplementary estimate in the way of extras, such as the annexes, gilding, fountains for machinery, &c., which bring the total cost up to nearly 70,000*l* more. The office and staff expenses have been unusually indeed absurdly moderate, however, but road-making and the of police account for large sums, as the also the charges of receiving goods, &c. In the Bank Parliament to which outside the Exhibition will be about as much more. In short there refuse, if every claimant were paid in full, the guarantors would be liable for some 5 or 10 per cent, upon the amount they individually underwrote. The both the Commissioners and the contractors have done their utmost to avoid such an unpleasant call, and will endeavour among them-selves to cover whatever small deficiency may be found to exist at the final settling.

As compared, then, with former Exhibitions, that of 1862 will be found to be the greatest both in the number of its visitors and even in the amount of its gross receipts. That of 1851 was open during five and a half months, and was attended by 6,039,195 visitors, including staff and exhibitors' attendants, as estimated daily by the police. The total amount paid at the doors was £505,000. The position of the other of season tickets amounted to £57,600, and the gross total received from all sources was £568,107 5*s*. 7*d*. including the £93,000 which was subscribed before the undertaking commenced, and which was afterwards carried to the capital account and not to which the gross total. The actual money taken from all sources, less this subscription, was therefore only £475,000.

The Paris Exhibition of 1855 was attended in six months by 3,626,351 visitors to the industrial department, and by 205,338 visitors to the fine arts department—in all 4,533,164, who paid for admission to each department the sum of £717, 666. This display left a deficit larger than our empire, and which had to be made good by a grant from the Imperial Government.

The present Exhibition has also been open six months, or seventeen days less than that of '51. The total number of visitors, excluding the staff and exhibitors' attendants, has been 6,117,150, or 87,000 over the gross numbers on the first occasion. The comparison between the two English displays, however, to be perfectly fair should include on occasion the staff and exhibitors' attendants, which were used to swell the total of '51. This would give the exhibition that has just closed a majority of quite a million over its predecessor, while its gross receipts will, we believe, be between £80,000 and £90,000 greater than on the first occasion. If we exclude from the total of 1851 the 767,400 subscribed throughout the country at the first conception of the scheme, and which it is quite needless to say was never returned to the subscribers.

In the Bolsa a document was prepared for signature and immediately signed by over forty mercantile firms, binding themselves to receive the foreign notes according to the rates established by the Directors of the Bank. We shall endeavour to publish it to-morrow.

There is no truth in the report that the Bank was unwilling to admit freely a coin we know of an English house which sent specie for large sums of coin and they were immediately received

It is very satisfactory for us to state that we have from good authority that the share holders of the Western Railway will be paid in full either to day or to morrow by simple application to the Provincial Treasury in the second patio of the Government House. While speaking on the subject we may state that the Government have despatched the Engineer, Mr. Otto Arning to survey the necessary plans and designs for the line which is to be recommenced very shortly and proceeded with vigor as far as the Villa Morone.

Over 3,000 ounces arrived to-day by the "Villa del Salto."
